More Rumors of War.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—Seven hundred men are at work to-day on the monitors Manhattan, Ajax and Canandaigua. The Manhattan will go into commission to-morrow. NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—About 5,000 persons visited the navy yard yesterday, many of them in search of work, not taking into account those who went there from purely personal motives. The officers of the yard say that at no time since the war has the general public evinced such interest in the affairs of the yard. No secret is made of the fact that orders have been received from Washington to prepare all available vessels at the yard for active service as soon as possible, and well informed parties say orders have been issued to prepare for sea at once every suitable vessel in the New York navy yard. The frigates Hancock and Colorado, each carrying fifty guns, will be ready for sea within 30 days.

"My Voice is Still for War."

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—The tone of the Western press generally, on Cuban affairs, is favorable to prompt energetic action on part of the United States to punish the insult to our flag, avenge the slaughter of our citizens, but the majority are opposed to the annexation of that island under any circumstances.

Collector Ca[illegible] to Remark.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—A Washington special gives a report of an interview with Collector Casey, of New Orleans, on the Cuban question. Collector Casey says Gen. Longstreet has for a year past been organizing an expedition in New Orleans for advance upon Cuba at the moment the Government would be embroiled, which he has anticipated. If the expedition enrolls 10,000 men, he says Havana can be starved out. Eight dollars a head is the duty upon the importation of Texas cattle to the island and $110 for each head of horses, which the entire cavalry reliance of the island is dependent upon. Casey says every member of the Cabinet is stiff for maintaining the dignity of the country. The President, he says, is particularly earnest, but he is too considerate to adopt war measures before Congress meets. The confederate element, he says, has been centralized in view of the conflict with Cuba which shall avenge the fate of Lopez and Crittenden. Casey says no member of the Cabinet wants to see Cuba possessed by the United States, but that commercial relations with Cuba are demanded and also more equal consideration at the hands of the [illegible] Government, which will place the United States on an equality with the English, who have not been annoyed in any way, while American citizens, native and naturalized, have been put to death as if everything was to be feared from England and nothing from America. Secretary Fish talks with as much grit as any other member of the Cabinet. Robeson has been nursing the navy for past years and thinks it efficient enough, considering Spanish disadvantages, to make easy work. The President will speak in his message with vigor on the Cuban question and wait prompt action by Congress.

The consolidation act calls for only four meetings during the year, but the Board adjourned from week to week till last Monday night, when they adjourned without day specified. Many persons hold that by this proceeding the Board voted itself out of legal existence. Eight met to-night and are going on with the regular routine of work. During the excitement some men entered Mr. Lipsett's saloon and stole property—specimens, notes and other valuables—to the amount of $1,000. Chinamen are suspected. The parties engaged in the robbery are probably the men who set fire to the building.

THE POSITION OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

From the New York Times, November 6th.

Our readers will not be surprised at the turn which political affairs have taken. In these columns there has been no confidence expressed ever since the canvass began. Besides, we always considered that the Democrats stood an unusually good chance of success. We have thrown out repeated hints and warnings to this effect, and we should have made them much more plain but for the traditional feeling that many persons are apt to be discouraged when they come in contact with doubts and fears. For our own part, we are disposed to think that it is always best to tell the truth in politics as in other things; but had we told the Republicans they were very likely to be defeated, we should have been charged with [illegible] about the ticket. We regret what has happened, but we regret it very mildly. The success of the Democrats is partly owing to unavoidable causes, and we cannot regard it as an unmixed evil. All ruling parties require as duty checks now and then, and the Republican party has received a lesson which will do it much good in coming years. We have now an opportunity of revising ourselves in many important particulars, and it will be our own fault if we do not take to heart the truth that we are only strong while we truly represent the opinions and wishes of the people.

It cannot be denied that the party needed this lesson. After a long term of power leaders are apt to grow careless, if not reckless, and they forget that there is a power behind them which can and will instantly punish them when they depart from the strict line of duty. The back pay business of last session has injured us very much—on the very night the bill was passed we warned our Republican friends who supported it what they had to expect. The financial troubles of the hour have done us still greater injury. As we pointed out on Monday, all such disturbances are likely to prove the ruin of the party which is in power when they break out. This may be unjust, but it is one of the hard facts of politics which we have to face. The Republicans have saved the credit of the country at home and abroad for years past, and it is well known that the Democrats would have utterly destroyed it. After the war the latter took their stand upon a measure which practically amounted to repudiation, and it was only the good sense and honesty of the people expressed through the Republican party that forced them to change their tactics. In this and other matters the Republicans have always defended the nation's credit. They are certainly not responsible for the over speculation in railroads, or for the stock brokers' panic which precipitated the recent crisis. But all argument on such a subject is useless. The bulk of the people will follow their instinct in such matters, and their instinct leads them just now to believe the Democratic cry that the Republican party is responsible for the panic. Working men out of employment will not vote for the party, but prefer to make it a scapegoat. Their reasoning is very simple: We are not well off under the Republicans; we may fare better under the Democrats, and at any rate we cannot fare worse. All these may be popular delusions, but they exist and they are powerful for us, so powerful that we are very glad the Presidential election did not happen to be held this year.

In this State, at any rate, the Democrats have not materially increased their strength—it is our own strength which has declined. This means, to tell the plain truth, that party and Administration are both under a cloud. We hope none of the Republican leaders will deny this, because if they do it may prevent them applying themselves to the discovery of those remedies for the present evils which can alone prevent the overthrow of their party. If, for instance, Congress cannot do something toward placing our finances on a more satisfactory basis—if it attempts the task and fails, or muddles it, or leaves things no better than they are now—we may as well say good bye to our power and influence. Granted that the Democrats would fail also—still the people have not yet found that out. They would say: Our party has broken down—let us try their opponents. We may find some able men among them who can pilot us through our present dangers. The Republicans admit their incapacity, and so there is nothing to hope from them. It will be well for our friends in Congress to recognize this state of feeling, and instead of explaining it away, to endeavor to meet and satisfy it.

* * *

Much might—perhaps ought to be—said concerning the tactics pursued by some of our own leaders. Instead of finding fault with them, which might seem an ungracious thing to do at the present moment, we will put one or two questions and ask them to think them over candidly and without annoyance or ill feeling. It will be of no use to get angry. Rather let us take friendly counsel together.

1. Do you think that it is wise to put up all sorts of candidates for office and trust the party papers to pull them through? Would it not be a much more honorable course to choose good men all round—men like John A. King, T. W. Tobey, Hamilton Fish, Jr., and others? Do not expect the T[illegible] and Buffalo Commercial and Albany Journal and other papers to be able to carry through bad men. They cannot do it, and will not try.

2. Do you think that it is wise to leave the management of the party in New York city to two or three hands, and those not the best that could be found by any means? It is said by our enemies that the Custom house controls our politics. In one sense we half wish it did, for Collector Arthur is a man of influence and high principle, and would never willingly put a bad man before the people for office. But what are we to think of —— well, we will mention no names.

3. Do you think you made much by that alliance with Apollo Hall, or that you drew away many votes from Tammany Democrats? In 1871 the Democratic majority in the city was 29,151. Yesterday it was [illegible]. So you don't seem to have reduced the Democratic vote. And how many Apollo Hall votes did you get for yourselves? How many Republican votes did you drive away? In 1871 our total vote in the city was [illegible]. Yesterday it was [illegible]. So we don't seem to have gained much in that direction.

We merely put these points by way of suggestion. The managers may think them trivial, or they may turn round and say, "The Times did not help us." If they are disposed to say that, we will tell them plainly that we helped more than we are ever likely to do again if they give us a ticket [illegible] Apollo Hall Alliances and Corner [illegible].

[illegible]

From the [illegible]

The Republican party was warned. It represented in Congress and in the State Legislature [illegible] warned. They [illegible] faithfully [illegible] success in the future. [illegible]

From the [illegible]

Upon the Republican party [illegible] They have in some [illegible] whatever [illegible] power. [illegible] stronger and [illegible]

[illegible]

But behind these [illegible] ment [illegible] with the result [illegible] of the [illegible] the nightmare of the fall year [illegible] be added [illegible] the Republican rank and file, partly from disgust with the proceedings of Congress [illegible] the back pay grab, and partly from the [illegible] since [illegible] charge. True the majority for Governor in Massachusetts [illegible] was but 5,000, but still the falling off in the Republican majority is significant and ominous.

From the Albany (Rep.) Express.

The Democrats have elected their State ticket by a majority somewhere about 5,000, and possibly have carried the Senate and Assembly. We regret this exceedingly, but it is only what might have been expected. The Republicans have not fought the fight with faith; they have not been sanguine of the result; they have not displayed their usual vigor. Let the matter rest here. By and by we may speak of the causes which have led to our defeat, but at present we can only say that we are served just right.

From the Boston Advertiser.

Let it be understood once for all that a "regular" caucus nomination is of no value to a candidate unless he has been openly canvassed, and unless he proves himself a fit representative of the character and sentiments of his district. That will do more toward purifying the political atmosphere and putting the whole caucus system on good behavior than a world of theorizing about it.

From the Cedar Rapids (Iowa) Times.

Never were affairs so mixed since Iowa has existed, and what time will bring forth from this inexplicable muddle the wisest but lose their time in guessing. * * * That there is dissatisfaction among the people with the Republican party for some cause, whether real or imaginary, cannot be denied, and we had better look the matter fairly and squarely in the face and meet it than to cry "bosh" and flatter ourselves that the Republican party is invulnerable. * * * Let the Republicans of Iowa take due heed to the warnings of this election, sounded from every corner of the State, and let them get down to business and let that business be the work of routing demagogues.

From the Evening Post (Rep.)

Everywhere we think the evidence goes to prove that there has been no real gain in the Democratic strength, but a prodigious falling off in that of the Republicans. The reaction against the ruling powers has not been a negative so much as a positive one, evincing apathy and dissatisfaction on the part of the friends of the Administration rather than a determined opposition and design of revolt. A large number of the people who have expected a more intelligent, decided and vigorous policy in questions of pressing interest and been disappointed, have hauled themselves out of the fight in order to watch what is going on, and to hold themselves ready to join that body of malcontents who are the best fitted to deal with the affairs of the country in their actual position and circumstances.

A STEAMBOAT ATTACKED.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31.—Monday evening, about dark, the steamer Frank Pargoud was attacked at Goodrich-landing by between fifty and sixty colored men, who, but for the coolness of Capt. White and his officers, would have taken possession of the boat, as they had heretofore threatened to do by resolution adopted in public meetings. The trouble arises from the vexed question of Ethiopian [illegible] equality, and is related as follows: The Pargoud was on her down trip to New Orleans, and, as usual, stopped at Goodrich landing, which is on the Louisiana side of the river, about thirty five miles above Vicksburg, for the purpose of taking freight on board and signing bills of lading. Suddenly and without warning the Pargoud was boarded by fifty or sixty colored men, led by Cain Sartain, a member of the Kellogg [illegible]. The party rushed to the cabin in a boisterous manner, where they were [illegible] by their leaders, who demanded that they should be furnished with drink. Captain White, who was [illegible] on his station, came down at this juncture to confront the rioters. He and Cain Sartain, with whom he had a discussion. Cain asserted that he was a member of the legislature that made the law governing steamboats, and claimed he had the right to drink on board the boat. He said he was his social equal in every respect. Besides making threats against the captain and his officers for refusing to serve him at the bar, which, but for the timely arrival of Captain White, would have been seized by the rioters, [illegible] Captain White [illegible] and Sartain [illegible] authority which governed steamboats than his legislature [illegible] the boat. A rumor to the effect that the Politkofsky had been condemned and would not be allowed to navigate the waters of Puget Sound after the 4th of this month is unfounded.

The San Francisco Bulletin thinks that, "at the lowest estimate, and leaving furs, gold mines and agricultural resources out of the account, Alaska is worth more to the American people than any other of their Territories." What for?

Under the new arrangement of the steamer Alida, Steilacoom has daily communication with Olympia and Tacoma. Travel is as brisk as ever, and the three steamers Anderson, Alida and Zephyr must be paying well, to judge from their passenger lists each way.

From the Boise Statesman: "The Rescue Mining Company will not be able to get their machinery into Warrens so as to be able to do anything this winter. Dr. Kelly, Wheeler and some others are building a grist mill on Camas Prairie at Mount Idaho. It is to be a steam mill, and the boiler and engine is the one formerly used in Dr. Kelly's saw mill in Lewiston. This is the first grist mill in North Idaho. It will make a good market for wheat, which is raised in great abundance on Camas Prairie. Heretofore they have hauled or packed all the flour in from the Touchet, Walla Walla county, one and two hundred miles."

The Secretary of the Utah Northern Railroad Company has notified the authorities of Idaho Territory that the Company claims the exemption from all taxes extended to railroads by an act approved January 9, 1873, entitled "An act to exempt railroads built within the limits of Idaho Territory from taxation for seven years." And in consideration of such exemption from taxation until January 1st, 1880, the company agree to charge no higher rate of tariff for freight and passengers, in the ratio of the distance carried to or from any point in Idaho Territory over the whole or any portion of their line, than shall be at the time charged for freight and passengers of the same class for same distance on the Central and Pacific Railroads—this agreement to be in force during the period of said exemption.

A letter in the Transcript, dated at Yakima City, Nov. 4th, says: "I could give you a sketch of the new discovery, but I suppose you have had the details before now. Suffice it to say that the boys have been taking out nuggets worth all the way up from $2 50 to $15, and have found flattering prospects up and down the creek for eight or ten miles, and also in the hills and gulches. I found while there some gold bearing quartz. The weather will not permit much more prospecting this season, but all hands will go for it in the spring. Another camp has also been established on the Wenatchee. Old Shafer is there and reports five to seven dollars [illegible] a day, and a number of others are preparing winter quarters there. It has already made a market for our flour and produce, etc. The boys have [illegible] coal near the Swauk mines."

A DILIGENT TURNKEY.—One of the jailers in the Tombs is said to have expressed great [illegible] at the St[illegible]. Why, [illegible] you've condemned the wealthy [illegible] have seen a man taken from this place and sentenced to five years imprisonment for stealing a few to keep his family from starving. Yet here is a deliberate assassin, he [illegible] have added, who is condemned to only four years residence at Sing Sing, with an easy time before him, no doubt, and the chance of an Executive pardon. Ah! but, Mr. Simple-minded Turnkey, don't you know that the [illegible] is well connected, and that his friends are rich, while the man who steals money to keep his family from starving must necessarily be a poor devil? No bandage closes the eyes of Justice so effectually as a band of gold.

LETTER FROM SALEM.

SALEM, Nov. 16, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

During the past week there have been more people in town than usual. They were drawn hither by the session of the Circuit Court. There has been considerable business transacted by the Court, but it will probably finish up by next Saturday.

A few days ago Mr. D. L. Riggs made a successful experiment of his invention for

MENDING CRACKED BELLS,

Which he has patented some time since. Mr. Riggs informed me that his first experiment was to repair a dinner bell. Then he offered to mend the city fire bell, but the authorities refused permission. The President of Philomath College sent the bell of that educational institution down to be repaired. The bell weighed about 300 pounds. Last Monday the attempt was made and proved successful. The method is as follows: A preparation of plumbago and fire clay was moulded on the inside and outside of the cracked place in the bell, and a small furnace built on each side of the crack against the mould; then a white heat was made from stone coal and charcoal mixed with a blast from a steam engine. This great heat caused the bell to melt at the crack and run together, while the deficiency had been supplied with some bell metal that Mr. Riggs had prepared and put into the mould before heat was raised. There was some delay caused by the outside mould, but after that was repaired the experiment was successful, but rather rough. Mr. Riggs says that in his next operation he will avoid some mistakes that he committed with this bell.

The agent of the College, who examined the work in this city, expressed himself as perfectly satisfied with the success of the work. They say the bell is as sound and clear as it was before it was cracked. Mr. Riggs says he would like to mend the liberty bell that has been useless for a number of years, so that it could be rung at the centennial celebration. It would be a noteworthy achievement for a citizen of this State to repair it for that occasion, and I hope he may have an opportunity, believing that he could make it as good as new.

The late grand jury visited the penitentiary and made their report, which I enclose:

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

To the Honorable Circuit Court of Marion County: We the grand jury, in discharge of our duty, have visited and inspected the different departments of the Court House and find everything kept in the neatest and best manner. We have given the departments of Clerk and Sheriff such investigation as men who are not experts in bookkeeping could give, and have no hesitation in saying that in our opinion each department is well and properly conducted, and particular and careful attention is paid to the safety of books and papers. And we feel that we should but partially perform our duty if we fail to speak in terms of commendation of our efficient and gentlemanly Clerk and Sheriff, who we have found always prompt in the discharge of their official duties and cheerfully responding to every call made upon their time or patience.

As was our duty we visited the Penitentiary and were shown through the building and grounds by the polite and efficient Superintendent. We found everything conducted in a very neat and orderly manner. Every thing reasonable seems to be done to render the unfortunate inmates comfortable, and if humane treatment will reform them, the present management is in the right direction.

(Signed) ELIAS F. COLBY, Foreman.

The Willamette River Transportation Co. have purchased a house, which they are having moved upon their wharf for the purpose of receiving and shipping freight, which will prove of great value to them, if the Willamette river does not land it somewhere near Portland during some of its freshets the coming winter.

There has been enough flax seed raised during the past year to run the Pioneer Oil Mill until the crop is received next year.

By the last steamer, a large number of barrels were received from San Francisco which, I think, could have been made as cheap, probably, at this place.

THE OTHER SIDE.

PORTLAND, Nov. 17, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Presuming that you are a lover of the truth and that your paper seeks to set forth a true statement of facts, I take the liberty of correcting certain misstatements copied by you from an Eastern exchange and commented upon by you in your issue of the 15th inst. These misstatements are regarding the Rt. Rev. Wm. Geo. Tozer.

First, he is called a Bishop in partibus. The Church of England has no such Bishops. Such belong to the Church of Rome, and are called Bishops in partibus Infidelium—i. e., in the countries of Infidels. Such are all their Bishops in England and in the United States, etc. Had the writer in your exchange known anything of the history of 1562 he would have been able to appreciate the nature of the description.

Again, Bishop Tozer is spoken of as the Bishop of Zanzibar. This is a mistake. He was consecrated to the episcopate in 1863, as Bishop of Central Africa, which we believe is on the mainland. So that if he were there he was in his place. Dr. Livingstone has so great a reputation for truth that I must express my doubt that he wrote the sentence attributed to him. For nine years Bishop Tozer has braved the fever and other dangers of Central Africa, as is shown by a report of Sir Bartle Frere now before me. It is only a very short time since he returned to England, a mere wreck of the man he was ten years ago. Our communicator—nameless here for evermore—like another celebrated croaker must have blundered again.

As to Bishop Cummins' defense—it is hard for us to say it—hard to confess his ignorance, but it is as lame in its facts as the above strictures, which would be funny did they not rest absolutely upon nothing. The Dean we have nothing to do with, except to say he would not direct [illegible] of the Church in his own Diocese. The Bishop broke it and tried to defend his action by an appeal to history. Let me say I do not wish to enter into the merits of the case—nor to discuss [illegible] the question of relation between the churches. I only hold that [illegible] The Bishop of Kentucky thinks otherwise, and thus puts the rest of us in an awkward position toward Christian men whom we highly esteem. He defends his position by a reference to the case of Martin Bucer and Peter Martyr, two Germans who came over to England during the Reformation. The Bishop claims that these had not received Episcopal ordination, and that they were admitted to parishes in England. He is wrong in both his facts. They were ordained by Bishops, but they did not hold parishes in England. They were Professors in the universities. It is well to laugh people out of court when it can be done, but it is well not to crow before you are out of the wood.

I must again enter my protest against anything more being intended by this communication further than the getting at the facts in the case.

Hoping, Mr. Editor, you may grant me space in your esteemed journal for the above corrections, allow me to remain most sincerely yours, in the love of

TRUTH AND ACCURACY.

LETTER FROM OLYMPIA.

[FROM OUR LEGISLATIVE CORRESPONDENT.]

OLYMPIA, Nov. 15, 1873.

The Legislative Assembly met at 7 P. M. last evening, but I was prevented from being present; however, I believe everything passed off harmoniously, with the exception of a little spat between Frank Clark and Mr. Judson on the subject of a bill for the relief of the former. But as I know nothing of the matter I shall wait until I am further posted.

I understand the only bills vetoed were, one exempting railroads in the Territory from taxation while in course of construction, and all the divorce bills.

With regard to the railroad bill, the Governor takes the ground that the law says all taxation shall be equal and uniform, which, I presume, must be correct, as the bill was evidently designed to make fish of one and flesh of another.

The message relating to divorce bills stated that Congress in 1826 decided that the Legislature of Florida had no right to pass divorce laws; again, the only evidence which can be received by the Legislature are ex parte statements, not verified by oath, and the questions of alimony or provision for minor children can not be decided by Legislative assemblies, as these are questions which are under the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts and none else.

Mrs. Chamberlain is lecturing to large and respectable audiences each evening, who are very much interested on the subject of Spiritualism.

Thanks are due J. M. Murphy, Esq., of the Washington Standard, for favors shown.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 18, 1873

THE EASTERN PRESS ON THE ELECTIONS.

The f[illegible] attempting to explain the recent defeats of the Republican party on the [illegible] theory is sufficiently rebuked in the comments of Eastern journals which we [illegible] in another column. With the figures of the recent elections before him no thinking man will soberly argue that the people are just as well satisfied with the management of the party as they were one year ago.

Within the past five weeks State elections have been held in California, Oregon, Ohio, Iowa, Massachusetts, New York, Maryland, Minnesota, New Jersey, Arkansas, Illinois, Kansas, Mississippi, Virginia and Wisconsin. Every one of these States—except Maryland—gave General Grant a large majority in November 1872, while in November 1873 the Republican nominees were defeated in the majority of them. The New York Times, the leading Republican journal in the United States, speaks very plainly to the party managers in New York. It tells them that they are responsible for the defeat of November 4th; it confesses that the party is fairly beaten, and it regrets it, but very mildly. With a candor and frankness that is rare in journals of a dominant party, it says the defeat "means to tell the plain truth that both party and Administration are under a cloud." This is an extremely disagreeable confession but it is the naked truth. Divested of all excuses the October and November elections signify a very deep sentiment of hostility to the corrupt management which has controlled primaries, conventions and Congresses for a year or two past. The people are tired of being managed. They are tired of the politician who caresses them with one hand while the other is elbow deep in the national treasury. This hostility and this weariness are, at present, expressed chiefly by ominous nods and winks, which are suggestive enough, however, to all who are disposed to heed them. If these shall not prove effectual, there remains the audible voice of the people, which turns and overturns, which builds up and destroys.

The Times puts some very pertinent questions to the party leaders in New York. It reminds them that great as the power of the press may be, it cannot force the people to vote for bad men. And it tells them plainly that they need not expect Republican papers to shoulder the burden of their evil work. The Republican press cannot do it, and it "will not try." It closes by warning the dictators that the Times will "bolt" next time. But see here! How is this for "party fealty"? Is this insubordination, on the part of the Times, to be tolerated by the Bulletin, of Portland, Oregon? What, then, is to become of party discipline? Already Harper's Weekly, the Boston Advertiser, the Worcester Spy, the Pittsburg Gazette, the Philadelphia Press, the Baltimore American, the Cincinnati Commercial and the St. Louis Democrat have flung their heels high over the traces? What are the 'Regulars' going to do about it? Whip them back, of course! [illegible] Brand your lashes Mr. Bulletin, and let the old-liners get ready for the bastinado.

There is one noticeable feature in the Times's editorial article, which we have not noticed. It says "For our own part, we are disposed to think that it is always best to tell the truth in politics as in other things." From which we infer that the Times will not again balk at its duty. The general tone of the article is much more heretical than anything yet published in the editorial columns of the OREGONIAN. But it is a kind of heresy which the people would do well to encourage. In it lies the sole hope for the salvation of the Republican party.

INFORMATION WANTED.

The Bulletin of yesterday contains this item:

> WITHOUT FOUNDATION.—It is reported that a large number of witnesses were called to testify before the United States Grand Jury at its recent session in regard to election frauds. No indictments have been announced, hence it is to be inferred that the Grand Jury found no testimony to sustain the allegations that have appeared in the partisan newspapers.

From the fact that the writer of the above extract was in close consultation with the Foreman of the Grand Jury on the night of Thursday, Nov. 6th, one would presume that the inference above referred to is drawn on authority. As we do not hob-nob with jurymen to this extent we are unable to make any assertion as to the nature of the evidence brought before the Grand Jury of the United States District Court. Of two things we are reasonably certain. First that there is a sufficiency of evidence to be obtained on these charges of bribery and corruption, and second, that the United States District Attorney will do his duty. Given these two facts and twenty-four unprejudiced men—solve that equation will you Mr. Bulletin? There isn't an unknown quantity in it. It is simply a case of two and two make four. Never shout until you are out of the woods.

CRUELTY TO SEAMEN.

The trial of Captain Clarke and his first mate Harris of the ship S[illegible] has developed [illegible] narrative which [illegible] several [illegible] stories of the press gang. The San Francisco Call of the [illegible] inst. [illegible] Wm. M. Dunbar, who was [illegible] a shipmaster. He repeats the evidence already given by several of the crew—[illegible] we have published—adding [illegible] horrible details with which they seem to have been unacquainted. One of these seamen in relating the brutalities which [illegible] the men and [illegible] said that Peter Johnson was [illegible] when he came on board he was a sensible man [illegible] marks [illegible] swelling, which he said [illegible] caused by hitting [illegible]. Johnson was beaten every day—every day of the voyage [illegible] on board was beaten by the mate in presence of the Captain and the brute laughed while [illegible] for mercy. The witness [illegible] on which I was lifted [illegible] witness explained as well as he could this punishment of tricing up by saying that the weight of a man's body in this position comes on his arms and feet. And when he begged to be released saying that he was sorry for what he had done and would not do so any more, this devilish brute told him that he would continue his punishment for his own pleasure. And the only offense of which this poor seaman was guilty consisted in asking Captain Clarke after the mate had beaten him, the seaman, if he allowed such things on his ship, and when the captain said "Yes," the defenseless sailor told him he would see about it when he got to San Francisco. Then came the cruel punishment.

The testimony of the shipmaster alluded to is so full of this atrocity [illegible] that we reproduce it:

> I called them all aft on the poop. She was a big ship. I took a sheath knife from his pocket behind and I cut his shirt off his back, and then I had my officers—it took all three mates—to secure him and trice him up in the mizzen rigging. I gave him a dozen, and the mate gave him another dozen and when I let him down I told the crew, "Now," says I, "I will give you the same punishment," and they seemed to submit to it and I put them in irons myself. I put eighteen of them in irons. They stood on their feet. They were kept there
>
> TWO DAYS AND TWO NIGHTS UNTIL THEY SUBMITTED.
>
> The cause for which I took the knife out and cut the man's shirt off was mutiny. That mutiny consisted in refusing to do duty. They wanted to go on shore to see the American Consul. I refused to let them go and triced them up. In cutting the man's shirt off I commenced right at the collar and cut through the back of the shirt. I did not care if I had cut his flesh. I did not cut into the pants at all. The shirt dropped off him. I believe I gave him
> A DOZEN ON THE BARE BACK
> And shoulders, as hard as I could, with a piece of rattling stuff. That stuff had been tarred. It was not very limber. It was a first-class weapon of torture. I did not wish anything better. I gave him a round sound dozen as hard as I could, and the mate gave him another dozen. The blood flowed a little after I gave him my dozen and more freely after the mate gave him the other dozen. The mate was not as muscular as I and could not hit him as hard. After that I put the man in his room. I did not rub any salt on him. I did not wash his back off or put any shirt on him. I let him go to the forecastle to his berth. The other men were strung up between decks, eighteen of them, chained to the topgallant sheets. They went to work again when they were released two days and two nights after. We then went down to the Chincha Islands and loaded, and one night four of them jumped overboard and swam to the ship Northern Light of Philadelphia, and deserted my ship. I didn't get those men again. When the man I flogged got up to Callao he went on board the English frigate President and made a complaint and showed the scars on his back that I had given him, and the captain of the frigate went to Miles and asked him what could be done with Captain Dunbar and I was sent for to come on shore and I went on shore and saw Miles. He wanted to know what punishment an English captain would be allowed to inflict. I said that if I had that post, captain of the English navy on shore I would lick him just as hard as I did my sailor, I would lick him about the streets of Callao. The Consul took me by the hand, and says he, 'Captain, you are a man.'

Perhaps if Dr. Newman, our recently appointed Inspector of Consulates, were to interview this Consul he might recommend that the standard of manhood be elevated in that neighborhood by the removal of Miles.

While we are talking about the execution of a lot of filibusters as a 'stain on civilization' would it not be well to remember that this inhuman sea captain murdered three of his crew? And while we are breathing out threats of war against Spain because she will not down on her knees at our bidding, might we not profitably remember that all the punishment we have inflicted on this brutal murderer Clarke, is a fine of a few thousands of dollars?

The Canadian Parliament must be a remarkable body of Americans. The other day when Cunningham, one of the members from Manitoba, told the House that he had been approached by Alderman Henri of Ottawa, and offered $5,000 and all his election expenses to vote for the Government, there was tremendous excitement. The House at once ordered the Sergeant-at-Arms to arrest the Alderman. The Ottawa correspondent of the Chicago Times offers an explanation of the affair. Henri is known in the city as Honest John, he says. And in the next breath he tells us that he (Henri) "was a contractor for supplies of wood to the Parliamentary building." Henri says that he called on Cunningham at one time and found him in his bed drunk. Cunningham told the observing Alderman that he was not committed to either side, but he was poor and his election cost him $1,000. Then this sympathetic Alderman told him that if he voted with the Ministry he would be elected next time without cost, as it was the wish of his constituents. That is all there was of it.

Inquiry into the official conduct of ex-Acting Mayor Cicalla of Memphis discloses a little the meanest swindle on record. He admits the accusations charging him with appropriating supplies for the sick and destitute to his own use, but shields himself behind the law which made him purveyor of the stores. It is now said that the only offense for which he can legally be held accountable is forging the signature of a lady's name to a requisition for supplies. When he found that the press dispatches would disclose his shameful conduct, Cicalla took an armful of the stolen articles to the house of the lady whose name he had forged and offered them to her, but she declined to receive them. It has leaked out that Cicalla secured a lot of wines, two pairs of fine blankets and some other articles in the same manner.

CITY.

AN ANCIENT PAINTING —Probably one of the oldest paintings on this coast can be seen at the show window of Steel & Co' on First street. This venerable painting, like every other kind of relic of art has quite a history not unmixed with a shade of romance. The age of this painting is over 200 years. It is said to be from the brush of Murillo or Valesques so well known in the history of Spanish art—the exact authorship being involved in some doubt owing to its extreme age. This painting was brought from Spain to Mexico very many years ago. By some accident it fell into the hands of a family residing in Mexico. During some of the civil revolutions which have frequently distracted that beautiful land this family fled to California, before the discovery of gold. More than twenty years ago an old [illegible] man named Charles Verdon saw the painting, took a great fancy to it and bought it for the sum of $250. While the Fraser river gold discoveries were at the highest pitch of excitement Verden visited British Columbia taking with him this old painting. Meeting with many sad reverses of fortune Verden became much reduced in circumstances and at length was compelled to offer this old and highly prized painting for sale. Mr Dudley Evans the agent in this city for Wells Fargo & Co was in Victoria about a year since. He heard of the painting its romantic history and Mr Verden's desire to dispose of it. Terms were soon agreed upon between Mr Evans and Verden and the article was transferred to the former gentleman. When Mr Evans came to this city some months ago he brought this ancient painting over with him. On account of its great age and the historic associations which cluster about the painting Mr Evans would not part with it for a large sum. Recently he has had it set in a rich gilt frame. The picture is about 18x14 inches. It represents an old friar kneeling on the ground before a large cross and beside a high cliff of rock. Both hands are raised supplicatingly towards Heaven, while his eyes bend with an earnest reverential gaze at the cross before him. A long cowl envelopes his attenuated form bending under age, while his brows are blistered with the severe self imposed penance, and his long skeleton like fingers shows that constant watching and fasting have left their unmistakable traces. The artist has portrayed the scene with life and vividness and notwithstanding its great age none of the colors exhibit traces of fading, every feature of the artist's creation being retained with a surprising degree of richness.

DEATH OF MR BRYANT —The Masonic Fraternity of this city and East Portland will to day perform the funeral rites of that Order at the funeral of their late brother ~~C C~~ Bryant according to notice published elsewhere. The deceased was well known here. He was attacked with paralysis about two years ago and has suffered a great deal since. The second attack came on yesterday morning about six o'clock as he was getting out of his bed at his home in East Portland. This attack was very severe bursting the blood vessels of the heart and producing excessive hemorrhage from which he died almost instantly.

OUR ENGINE SHIPPED —Chief Engineer W O Bruen, received yesterday the following dispatch from San Francisco, which will best explain itself. To Chief Engineer Bruen—'Willamette No 1 shipped will send engineer with remaining engine.
(Signed) WEAVER, TAYLOR & CO
From this dispatch, we are to infer that one of the steam fire engines are on board the Ajax which will be due this evening and the other will be shipped on Saturday.

YAKIMA MINES —By a private letter received from a party who has just returned to the Dalles from the above mines we learn the news is not so flattering from that region as was at first thought. The party who returned states that he experienced considerable disappointment in the reported richness of these discoveries. Twelve feet of earth has to be thrown off to get at the bedrock, and then wages cannot be made.

FINANCES.—From the Auditor and Recorder's annual report, read last evening before the Board of Trustees of East Portland, we learn that the following amounts of money remained in the City Treasury on the 1st of the present month.

Street Fund	$1 113 43
General Fund	886 43
Surplus Fund	6 49
Street Repair Fund	21 25

QUESTION FOR DEBATE.—The East Portland Debating Society is still in a flourishing condition and lively discussions are held every week at the Council Chamber. A variety of subjects are debated—social political and religious. Next Friday evening the following subject will be up for discussion.
Resolved, That the liberty of the press should be restricted.

CHANGE OF VENUE —In the Circuit Court yesterday morning a motion was made by the counsel for the defense in the case of State vs Charles Mealey, for a change of venue. Several affidavits accompanied the motion on which the application was based. The motion was argued at length and taken under advisement by the Court. The matter will be decided this morning.

WEATHER REPORT —From the records of the U S Signal Station of Observation Portland Oregon, Nov 17 1873

Thermometer	49°	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wind direction	Calm	Calm	NE

NOT GUILTY —The jury yesterday in the Circuit Court after a short deliberation returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of the State vs Ed Kennedy. Kennedy was charged with having committed the crime of adultery and was jointly indicted with Julia McKensie.

STILL IN CUSTODY —Dr C G Glass who was convicted of manslaughter last Saturday is still in the county jail not being able to obtain bonds. His counsel have given notice that a motion for a new trial will be filed this morning and argued.

[illegible] —The mothers of East Portland are [illegible] prolific of [illegible]. During the present month there has been [illegible] births all within the limits of that municipality. Her big sister over [illegible] throws up the sponge.

THE MAILS —The southern mails arrived about every other day owing to a failure of the stages to connect at Roseburg. We presume Postmaster Cole will try the steamer route, when the delays are more frequent.

FINES —During the past year ending with November 1st, the total amount collected for fines in East Portland imposed in the Recorder's Court for violation of city ordinances is $161.

READY TO BE RENTED —Those desiring stalls in Burnell's new market are informed that the proprietor is now ready to let them. Some have already been engaged.

PERSONAL.

We find the [illegible] of [illegible] fellow citizen H [illegible] who has returned from an extended business visit to Scotland. During his absence in that country Mr [illegible] has accomplished much in the way of inducing immigration to our shores. He is a firm friend of the great North west and his untiring labors cannot but result in great good to our State. We trust that they will also result in profit to himself. We welcome him back.

Ben Holladay Esq and Mr James O'Meara editor in chief of the Pilot were passengers by the steamship Oriflamme which left this port for San Francisco on Saturday last. Mr Holladay's health is said to be in a precarious state and we hear that he goes to California for medical treatment. AMENDMENT TO JURY RULE No XI.

Last Friday soon after the discharge of the United States Grand Jury the following application was filed by the Attorney.
In the District Court of the United States for the District of Oregon. Now comes the United States District Attorney and moves the Court for a venire.
First—For a venire for a trial jury as there are a number of cases in said court for trial.
Second—For a venire for a Grand Jury for the reason that the last jury ignored bills in one class of cases when in my judgment the evidence showed that crimes had been committed.
A C GIBBS
U S District Atty for District of Oregon
The application was taken under advisement by the Court. Yesterday morning the following orders amendatory of Rule 11 pertaining to the manner of drawing and summoning grand and trial jurors were made by Judge Deady.
Ordered that Rule 11 of this Court be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows.
Grand and trial jurors shall be selected and summoned as follows.
I The Court shall order the selection from the last assessment roll or rolls of any county or counties in the District of not less than 150 names of the most competent and permanent citizens of such county or counties who shall also have the qualifications prescribed by section 918 of the Criminal Code of the State of Oregon and not be exempt from liability to act as a juror as prescribed in section 919 of such Code, to serve as grand and trial jurors in this Court until the following year or a new selection be made.
II Such selections shall be made within thirty days from the date of the order requiring it by the Marshal of the District and the Clerk of this Court together with the United States Commissioner resident in the county from which the selection is made or a majority of them, provided that in the selection to be made from the names of persons in the assessment rolls of Multnomah county the Register in Bankruptcy shall be deemed a United States Commissioner for this purpose.
III The officers making such selections must reduce the names of the persons selected to writing, together with the place of residence and occupation of each one of them and append thereto their certificate as to the material facts of such selection, and deliver the same to the clerk who must file the same in his office and write the names thereon on separate ballots and deposit them in a jury box as provided in section 925 of such Code.
IV Whenever grand or trial jurors are ordered in this Court, they must be drawn from the names in such jury box by the Clerk and Marshal aforesaid in the presence of the Register aforesaid, in substantially the manner prescribed in section 920 of the code aforesaid and the names of the persons so drawn as grand or trial jurors shall be inserted in the venire and they shall be summoned by the Marshal in the manner prescribed in section 931 of said Code, at least ten days before the time at which they are required to appear in Court unless otherwise directed in the venire.
V The ballots drawn shall be kept and disposed of as provided in sections 934 and 935 of said Code.
VI If from any cause there shall be a deficiency in whole or in part of jurors selected and drawn as aforesaid, the Court may order a sufficient number of qualified persons to be summoned from the body of the district to serve as jurors or talesmen as the case may be.
In the matter of the selection of persons to serve as grand and trial jurors in this court.
Now at this day is ordered that fifty persons be selected from the counties of Multnomah Clackamas and Washington respectively, as prescribed in rule 11 of this Court, to serve as grand and trial jurors therein.
In the matter of summoning a Grand Jury.
Now at this day comes the District Attorney Mr A C Gibbs, and gives the Court to understand that the Grand Jury heretofore impanneled in this Court and lately discharged therefrom, ignored bills in one class of cases when the evidence showed that crimes had been committed," and moves the Court for an order for a venire for a Grand Jury. Therefore it is ordered that the names of twenty-three persons be drawn from the jury box, as prescribed in rule 11 of this Court, and that a venire issue to the Marshal commanding him to summon such persons to be and appear in this Court to serve as Grand Jurors herein on Tuesday December 2d, 1873.

DECISION IN U S DISTRICT COURT BY JUDGE DEADY

U S District Court—District of Oregon Saturday Nov 15 1873

The Bark Doro. In Admiralty.

Articles describing a voyage from England to the United States and back held not to include ports on the Pacific coast.

DEADY J

This suit is brought by Frederick Small and seven others against the British bark Doro to recover a balance of wages alleged to be due them.

It is admitted that the libellants are American citizens and that they shipped on the Doro at Cardiff, Wales in March, 1873 for the monthly wages of £3. That the bark sailed to Montevideo with a cargo of coals and thence to Portland, Oregon, where she arrived Oct 31st.

The libellants allege that the master in bringing them around Cape Horn departed from the voyage agreed upon and described in the shipping articles, and therefore they are entitled to their discharge and wages.

The decision of the question at issue turns up on the construction to be given to the shipping articles. They describe the voyage as follows.

From the port of Cardiff Wales to any ports and places in the United States and British and foreign West Indies and east side of South America and Gulf of Mexico and back to a final port of discharge in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and British Provinces. Term not to exceed twelve calendar months.

Subsequently the words "twelve calendar months" were crossed out with some colored ink and the words "two years, and west coast of North or South America, and back to United Kingdom or continent of Europe" written thereafter in the same ink.

This clause, if valid, justifies the voyage to Portland. But, under § 163 of the shipping act of 17 and 18 Vict, it is void. That § provides — That every erasure, interlineation, or alteration, in any such agreement (shipping articles) with seamen, * * * shall be wholly inoperative, unless proved to have been made with the consent of all the persons interested in such erasure, interlineation or alteration, by the written attestation of some shipping master, justice, officer of customs, 'etc.

There is no attestation upon these articles by any one upon this subject. The alteration stands unexplained, and, in the language of the act, is wholly inoperative.

Do the articles, without the addition of these words, justify the voyage? For the libellants it is maintained that they do not, when fairly construed, while the contrary is urged on behalf of the claimant.

Literally the voyage to Portland, Or, is within the language of the articles. This port is a place within the United States. But I do not think that an agreement made in England to make a voyage to the United States would ordinarily be understood as including a voyage round Cape Horn to the ports of the United States on the Pacific coast. Two circumstances tend strongly to show that such was the light in which these articles were understood by the parties to them, when entered into, at Cardiff, Wales. All the places mentioned, except the United States, lie wholly on the east side of the American continent. If it was understood that the vessel might make a voyage to San Francisco or Portland as ports within the United States, why take the trouble to mention the east coast of South America, and thereby exclude the west coast of that country, when both coasts would lie in the line of a voyage to any port in the United States on the Pacific coast?

Whoever made this alteration in the articles, is properly presumed to represent the owners. They have been in the custody of the ship. Now the very making of the alteration admits that the articles were insufficient to warrant the taking of the crew on a voyage to a port in the United States on the Pacific coast. Had it been otherwise, there was no necessity for making the alteration.

The vessel was up for Montevideo when the crew shipped, and taking all the circumstances into consideration, I am well satisfied that the agreement was understood to limit the voyage of the ship to the eastern coast of the Continent of America.—[See The Ada Davies 407.

Ship masters and owners have ample means and facilities for putting their contracts with seamen in plain language and so the law of both Great Britain and America intends and requires.

If through negligence or design they fail to do so, and allow or procure articles to be signed, which are indefinite or ambiguous upon a matter of so much importance to the seamen as the difference between a voyage across the Atlantic and around Cape Horn in the dead of an Antarctic winter, this court will resolve the matter in favor of the seamen and against the party in fault.

An order will be entered referring the case to a Commissioner to hear the evidence and state an account between the libellants and the vessel.

COOS BAY ITEMS

Our Empire City correspondent writes under date of Nov 11th as follows.

Marshfield is a busy place just now and expects to run ahead of Empire some of these days.

There were some five arrivals last week and only two departures one of which was the Ivanhoe to Portland.

J P Munson's sawmill on the south fork of Coos river was destroyed by fire on the 6th inst. Cause—an accident.

Deputy U S Marshal Williams has been making things lively here the past few days having nipped two or three different persons on different charges.

Among the late arrivals was the schooner The Hawk a former Government vessel being a part of Commodore Perry's squadron in the Japan expedition in 18[illegible].

The return of the Ivanhoe the pioneer packet in the Coos Bay and Portland trade is looked forward to with interest. It is to be hoped the business will justify her in remaining in the trade.

AMUSEMENTS.

Prof J D White, the young and popular elocutionist will give one of his pleasing and instructive entertainments this evening at Good Templar Hall. An excellent programme is offered the public. We should advise all to attend. The entertainment promises to be a rare treat.

Sunset Cox was elected to Congress by a large majority to succeed James Brooks deceased. His friends now say that upon the assembling of Congress, he will introduce the following resolution.

WHEREAS Owing to the condition of the country at present and the critical aspect of financial affairs, and as a bill passed during the last session of this body for an increase of the salaries of the members after due operation, has been found to be inimical to the best interest of the people, be it resolved that said bill for the increase of salaries is hereby rescinded.'

Don't get crazy about the gold mines or a probable panic but settle down to business just where you are, and when you take a notion to invest in a new suit of clothing and desire something really nobby and elegant in that line interview J O NEIL & Co on the subject. They don't put on any big prices but always endeavor to satisfy on first acquaintance. You can't leave their place without entrusting an order to their attention.

A Cough Cold or Sore Throat, requires immediate attention as neglect oftentimes results in some incurable Lung Disease. Brown's Bronchial Troches will almost invariably give relief.

LOSS OF MEMORY may mean a general breaking up of the life forces or it may indicate the effects of obscure disease—contracted in early life. In either case Dr Helmbold's Buchu is the sure specific. It restores the functions of manhood and renovates the entire system. It acts upon both the liver and kidneys and is justly entitled the Great Diuretic. Get the genuine. All druggists sell it. MARY AND I.

Twas evening in May, and the soft zephyr sighed
Through branches low bending above
My Mary and I as we wandered along
And whisper'd of beauty and love
We'll make us a nest like the birdlings I said,
And never shall part any more
"Oh yes" she replied "and can furnish it nice,
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

Fair creature there's many a wealthier man
Would gladly have you for a bride
But no one can love you more fondly than I—
My treasure my beauty, and pride
Oh had I a mansion with carpets of gold
And silver I'd cover the floor
But, smiling she said, You can purchase the best
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE

'I'll spread you a couch upon which to recline
When evening shall call us to rest,
Of the finest down —"but" she said with a sigh,
I like a hair mattress the best.
Then so it shall be love and tables inlaid
And seats from some far distant shore.
'Oh no!' she exclaimed. They have elegant sets
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

But Mary alas I must sadly confess
My means are but slender as yet
To furnish a house in the style you demand
Would hopelessly plunge me in debt—
To ask you to share my poor lodgings and board
Is something that I should deplore
She said with a smile You can buy very cheap
AT HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

To morrow then love let us journey along
To the corner of Alder and Front street—
The numbers 98 and 100 (riverside)
Where lovers so happily meet

IS IT WORTH WHILE?

[illegible] following earnest and tender poem is taken from Joaquin Miller's new volume called [illegible] It is classed among those entitled Falling Leaves

Is it worth while that we jostle a brother
Bearing his load on the rough road of life?
Is it worth while that we jeer at each other
In blackness of heart—that we war to the knife?
God pity us all in our pitiful strife.

God pity us all as we jostle each other
God pardon us all for the triumph we feel
When a fellow goes down 'neath his load on the heather
Pierced to the heart: words are keener than steel
And mightier far for woe or for weal.

Were it not well in this brief little journey
On over the isthmus, down into the tide,
We give him a fish instead of a serpent
Ere folding the hands to be and abide
Forever and aye in dust at his side?

Look at the roses saluting each other
Look at the herds all at peace on the plain
Man and man only makes war on his brother
And laughs in his heart at his peril and pain
Shamed by the beasts that go down on the plain

Is it worth while that we battle to humble
Some poor fellow soldier down into the dust
God pity us all! Time eftsoon will tumble
All of us together like leaves in a gust
Humbled indeed down into the dust

IN CHANCERY

[illegible] STATE [illegible] FAMILY OF THIS [illegible] LAW SUIT—THE END OF OIL.

[From the Pittsburgh Leader Oct 30]

An extraordinary case is now on trial in Battle creek, Marshall county, Michigan. The history of the case is as follows

Mr Thomas Duncan by speculating in oil wells, and lands in Pennsylvania amassed an immense fortune after which he removed to this city for the purpose of making Battle creek his future home. His health being very poor he sought benefit by travel and for that purpose visited Ireland two years ago last winter, where he died. Duncan was an old bachelor, and having neither wife nor children he disposed of his property by will in a manner which greatly displeased his mother and brothers. Duncan was a devout Methodist, a member of the church in Battle creek and a personal friend of Bishop Simpson with whom he had been very intimate for a number of years. He bequeathed $50,000 to the bishop, and large amounts to religious Methodist objects and to his old friends. He made a comfortable provision for his mother and bequeathed a small amount to his brothers, which made them very indignant. Duncan was a quiet unassuming man, temperate and religious while his brothers were otherwise than religious in fact, were inclined to be fast. Being entirely unlike his brothers in habits and disposition and well knowing they would soon make way with his property if willed to them it is not at all strange that he first remembered his old friends and then bequeathed the larger portion of his fortune to objects which as a Christian, were endeared to him. The will was made May 20 1871 at Wheatfield near Belfast in the county of Antrim Ireland and was witnessed by Joseph Ferris and James Stewart of Belfast. Bishop Simpson and James Long both of Philadelphia are executors of the will. The first bequest in the will was to his mother, to whom he gave his house on Caldwell street, in this city and $5 000 to furnish the same. To his brother George he gave his property in the oil regions in Pennsylvania, including his interest in Pithole city and the town of Plummer. To the executors he gave in trust his house and lands at Cuyahoga falls, O, for his brother James during his life, and after his death to his brother George's eldest child and if the said brother James should die before said child attained the age of twenty-one, the proceeds or rents thereof shall accumulate for the benefit of the child until he arrives at age. He directed that his property at Battle-creek Cleveland Chicago Wisconsin and Pennsylvania, be sold, together with his personal estate and disposed of as follows. He directed that his executors pay his just debts and funeral and testamentary expenses, and invest a sum of $25,000 in the purchase of an annuity for his mother's support and maintenance during her life. He provided for a gardener and two female servants for his brother [illegible] during his natural life, to his niece Katie Duncan who is blind, he gave $10,000, to his brother James, $5,000, to be paid in annual sums of $300, to his brother Francis Henry, $10,000, to Richard, $10,000, to George, $5,000; to Bishop Matthew Simpson of Philadelphia, commonly known as Bishop Simpson, of the M E Church $50 000 to James Long of Philadelphia, $40,000 to William Jackson, of Pittsburgh, a poor blacksmith, who lost an eye while shoeing Duncan's horse $20 000 to Wm Wilson, a harness maker of Plummer, $10,000, to Sarah Prather, of Plummer, $10,000 to each of his friend James Long's two daughters, $10 000, to James Long's two sisters of Philadelphia, $30,000 to be divided among them equally to Ann Rooke of New York city a relative of his mother $10 000; to the M E church of Battle Creek $10 000. To Mr Leech a Methodist preacher of Pennsylvania, $5 000. To the M E church of the town of Plummer $25 000. To the M E church in Pithole city toward remodeling the edifice $10 000. He directed that his remains be taken to Pittsburgh and interred beside his father's, and that $30 000 be applied in the erection of a monument over the grave of his father and himself. The residue of his estate he directed the executors to apply to whatever religious Methodist object they may think best. He declares his reason for omitting his brother William's name and his sister Mary Jane's name in the will because he had already provided for them. He also declared that if any of the parties named in his will dispute or contest the validity thereof then it was his will that the legacy or bequest to such party shall lapse and form part of his residuary estate.

Duncan's relatives considered the disposal of his property in this manner as very singular, and proceeded to contest the will upon the ground of insanity

ANDY AND THE WORM

Well one day Andy was digging in his very own garden just after the shower, when he spied a big worm.

Worms are not pleasant things. I don't think that anybody would make a pet of one and although I've tried very hard I can not say that I really love them myself but I'm not afraid of them, and neither, I am glad to say, was Andy.

He didn't run away as fast as he could, tumbling over all sorts of things until he reached the house nor did he dance up and down screaming oh oh oh when this worm came up out of the ground. Not a bit of it.

He sat quietly down on an overturned flowerpot and looked at the worm in silence for at least two minutes and the worm raised its head a little (worms can't raise their heads very high) and looked at him.

At last said Andy "You're not pretty."

"I am not," answered the worm.

"You can't dance," said Andy.

"I can't," repeated the worm.

"Nor sing," said Andy.

"Nor sing," said the worm.

"You don't know your letters even," said Andy.

"I don't," said the worm.

"[illegible]," said Andy.

"They can't," said the worm.

"[illegible]," said Andy.

"[illegible] do anything," said Andy.

"I can," said the worm so loudly (for a worm) that Andy tumbled off the flower pot, he was so very much astonished.

[illegible] quickly picking himself up he sat down again and asked "What?"

"Something that bees birds and even boys [illegible]," answered the worm wriggling a little [illegible] naughty girls do when they say [illegible] "[illegible] you think yourself something great."

"[illegible]," said Andy.

"Take your little spade and chop me in two," said the worm.

"Oh [illegible]," said Andy, "that wouldn't be [illegible]."

"Well don't you [illegible]," said the worm, "then it all [illegible]."

"Are you sure you're in earnest?" asked Andy.

"Quite sure," answered the worm.

"And it won't hurt you?" asked Andy.

"Don't ask so many questions," do as I tell you," replied the worm.

And why? said Andy, but seeing that the worm was turning away from him he seized his little spade and chopped it in two and lo and behold one half crept off one way and the half the other.

"[illegible] enough," said Andy. "I don't [illegible] Mr Worm [illegible] in two Mr Worms."

"Good bye," said the head and "good bye" said the tail and they both crept under the ground and left Andy to ask "And why?" until this very day.—[illegible]

From the most reliable data [illegible] the amount of gold and silver coin in the country is [illegible] [illegible] now in [illegible] circulation in California, Oregon, Idaho, Arizona and Texas. The [illegible] the stock of coin in the country has been [illegible] since the 1st of April last and [illegible] [illegible]ifications are that [illegible] though there may be [illegible] some exceptions it will gradually go on until an amount [illegible] enable the country to resume specie payments is obtained.

The Chicago Journal of Commerce of November [illegible] says fears of danger of still further stringency have been sustained by the course of events. Affairs in the East are complicated and as a natural consequence tend to strengthen the depression existing in the West. The reported failure of Claflin & Co has been [illegible] and the firm announces its ability [illegible] but have been granted a four months extension. The failure of Sprague & [illegible] weakened confidence, whilst similar suspensions [illegible] New York and other places prove the [illegible] that the present is more than a mere stock panic and the sooner the people look the matter squarely in the face the better.

How New York State is paying its debts may be seen from the report of Comptroller Hopkins who has just returned to Albany from New York city where he had been to raise money with which to pay the principal and interest of the canal loan due November 1st. The amount of this loan which matured at that time is $1 974 600 and the interest is $9,875 total $1,984,475. He obtained from Comptroller Green on account of taxes due on or before December 1 $400 000, borrowed of the banks in New York $600 000 and the remainder will be drawn in equal quantities from the Albany and country canal banks. It is thought that borrowing will have to be resorted to by other debtors in order to eke out their payments.

Miscellaneous.

The ship Annie M Small was in port at Shanghai Sept 27th and the ship Puritan in port at Hong-kong Oct 11th. Both were awaiting orders.

The Japan Herald of October 21st has the following. The arrivals of silk worm eggs to date amount to about 850 000 being 300 000 short of the arrivals at same date last year. Settlements have been about 300 000 and prices remain firm although the late wet weather has had a bad effect on the eggs."

The steamship Quangtse, chartered to load flour in San Francisco for Liverpool gets £6 000 for the service. It is the first charter of the kind made on the coast.

The Bank of England has raised its rate to 9 per cent and should the flow of gold to this country continue for even two months longer as it has done for two months past the bank may possibly be permitted to suspend specie payments.

The San Francisco Commercial Herald speaking of the flour market in that city says: No better flour is made than that turned out by the Golden Age, Golden Gate, Starr Mills and other local flouring mills not excepting Imperial Salem Standard and other Oregon extras.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The market is reported quite active and buyers are inquiring freely for large lots. The large number of vessels present to load, renders it necessary for heavy purchases and it is now claimed that prices here are in advance of the figure justified by Liverpool quotations and only produced by the over supply of tonnage. Exporters to-day furnish quotations for our market at $2 per cental though we are reliably informed that 10 cents per cental better has been paid.

FLOUR—Our market is quite firm at $5 50@6 00 ₩ bbl for standard brands and $4@5 for inferior brands. Our State mills are nearly all now running on full time to supply orders for export while many of them are employed day and night. The local trade is quite up to the average, and gradually increasing. The aggregate shipped for the season will surpass that of any former year.

OATS—There is some inquiry noticed in our market and owing to the disposition of holders to stand for higher figures receipts are quite light. The home demand is also active and quotable firm at 40c ₩ bushel.

BARLEY—Without any special activity in our market, we quote fair to choice lots at $1 [illegible]@1 45 ₩ 100 lbs.

FEED—Prices are apparently weaker and we quote bran at $15 ₩ ton chopped feed $23@25 shorts $22 50. The demand is fair.

HAY—Good baled timothy is firm at $12@12 50 ₩ ton loose $11. The call for home consumption continues active.

POTATOES—In large lots command 33@37 cents according to variety and wants of buyer. The supply is heavy.

APPLES—We notice some lots selling at 25 cents ₩ bushel from wagons without boxes. Neatly packed in boxes ready for shipping we quote at 40@50c, as to variety.

ONIONS—The inquiry is more active and prices have ad vanced to about 2 cents ₩ lb.

DRIED FRUIT—Large receipts are noticed and prices are seemingly [illegible] somewhat. Apples in sacks quoted at 6@6½ cents ₩ lb, in kegs 7@7½ cents. Plums with pits, weak at 12@14 cents; pitless 15@16 cents ₩ lb.

BACON—The supply of Oregon cured hams and shoulders continues short of the demand while side meats are more plentiful and find slower sale. We quote good hams at 15 cents, shoulders 9@10 sides 10@11 cents per lb.

LARD—The receipts of fresh Oregon are very light and with a very active demand we quote the market firm at 11@12c ₩ lb in kegs and 12@13c in tins.

CHEESE—We notice large lots of the make of our State dairies in the market jobbing at 16@17c ₩ lb.

BUTTER—The San Francisco market is reported dull for Oregon made and reports from shipments made by last week's steamer are discouraging. Common lots are less readily sold at 18@22c ₩ lb while choice is still firm at 30@35c.

EGGS—The supply is still short though it is claimed that prices are rather weak at 40c owing to expected increased receipts and a slight decline in the California market.

CHICKENS—Are very scarce and prices nominally unchanged, though choice lots would probably command advance.

BEEF CATTLE—Receipts are diminishing and good young steers netting 500 lbs are worth 5c ₩ lb. We quote at 3@5c on foot.

DRESSED—Receipts limited and demand increasing quotable at 7@8c ₩ lb.

MUTTON SHEEP—The market is fairly supplied at $2@[illegible] ₩ head.

HIDES—Trade is apparently less active owing probably to reported declines in the Eastern Leather markets and the stoppage of factories. Prices however are without important change with less urgency on the part of buyers.

WOOL—For use by our State mills the prices paid range at 20@25c ₩ lb. Shipments amount to but little.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REME[illegible]

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco. Established 1854 for the treatment of [illegible] and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms [illegible] Weakness, Impotency etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for [illegible] and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest [illegible] publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz. sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustle of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision blunted intellect, loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and unfailing [illegible] of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Cured at Home

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars in coin in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells Fargo & Co a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates deceive the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are [illegible] tailors, shoemakers, news carriers intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in [illegible] any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting [illegible] titles certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR J F GIBBON, 623 Kearny st., corner Commercial San Francisco, Postoffice Box 1 957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1 957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily OREGONIAN. jy6dsp

IS IT WORTH WHILE?

A sweet and tender poem is taken [illegible] called [illegible] [illegible] lowing lines:

Is it worth while that we jostle a brother,
Bearing his load on the rough road of life?
Is it worth while that we jeer at each other,
In blackness of heart?—that we war to the knife?
God pity us all in our pitiful strife.

God pity us all as we jostle each other;
God pardon us all for the triumphs we feel
When a fellow goes down 'neath his load on the heather,
[illegible] to the heart: words are keener than steel,
And mightier far for woe or for weal.

Were it not well, in this brief little journey
On over the isthmus, down into the tide,
We give him a fish instead of a serpent,
Ere folding the hands to be and abide
Forever and aye in dust at his side?

Look at the roses saluting each other;
Look at the herds all at peace on the plain—
Man, and man only, makes war on his brother,
And laughs in his heart at his peril and pain,
Shamed by the beasts that go down on the plain.

Is it worth while that we battle to humble
Some poor fellow-soldier down into the dust?
God pity us all! Time too soon will tumble
All of us together, like leaves in a gust,
Humbled indeed down into the dust.

IN CHANCERY.

EXTRAORDINARY [illegible] FAMILY OF THIS [illegible] HEAVY LAWSUIT [illegible] OIL.

[From the Pittsburgh Leader, [illegible]]

An extraordinary case is now on trial in Battle creek, Marshall county, Michigan. The history of the case is as follows:

Mr. Thomas Duncan, by speculating in oil wells and lands in Pennsylvania, amassed an immense fortune, after which he removed to this city for the purpose of making Battle creek his future home. His health being very poor he sought benefit by travel, and for that purpose visited Ireland two years ago last winter, where he died. Duncan was an old bachelor, and having neither wife nor child, he disposed of his property by will in a manner which greatly displeased his mother and brothers. Duncan was a devout Methodist, a member of the church in Battle creek, and a personal friend of Bishop Simpson, with whom he had been very intimate for a number of years. He bequeathed $50,000 to the bishop, and large amounts to religious Methodist objects and to his old friends. He made a comfortable provision for his mother, and bequeathed a small amount to his brothers, which made them very indignant. Duncan was a quiet unassuming man, temperate and religious, while his brothers were otherwise than religious—in fact, were inclined to be fast. Being entirely unlike his brothers in habits and disposition, and well knowing they would soon make way with his property if willed to them, it is not at all strange that he first remembered his old friends and then bequeathed the larger portion of his fortune to objects which, as a Christian, were endeared to him. The will was made May 20, 1871, at Wheatfield, near Belfast, in the county of Antrim, Ireland, and was witnessed by Joseph Lorns and James Stewart, of Belfast. Bishop Simpson and James Long, both of Philadelphia, are executors of the will. The first bequest in the will was to his mother, to whom he gave his house on Caldwell street, in this city, and $5,000 to furnish the same. To his brother George he gave his property in the oil regions in Pennsylvania, including his interest in Pithole city and the town of Plummer. To the executors he gave in trust his house and lands at Cuyahoga falls, O., for his brother James during his life, and after his death to his brother George's eldest child, and if the said brother James should die before said child attained the age of twenty-one, the proceeds or rents thereof shall accumulate for the benefit of the child until he arrives at age. He directed that his property at Battle creek, Cleveland, Chicago, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania, be sold, together with his personal estate, and disposed of as follows: He directed that his executors pay his just debts and funeral and testamentary expenses, and invest a sum of $25,000 in the purchase of an annuity for his mother's support and maintenance during her life. He provided for a gardener and two female servants for his brother James during his natural life; to his niece Katie Duncan, who is blind, he gave $10,000; to his brother James, $5,000, to be paid in annual sums of $300; to his brother Francis Henry, $10,000; to Richard, $10,000; to George, $5,000; to Rev. Matthew Simpson, of Philadelphia, commonly known as Bishop Simpson, of the M. E. Church, $50,000; to James Long, of Philadelphia, $30,000; to William Jackson, of Pittsburgh, a poor blacksmith, who lost an eye while shoeing Duncan's horse, $20,000; to Wm. Wilson, a harness maker of Plummer, $10,000; to Sarah Prather, of Plummer, $10,000; to each of his friend James Long's two daughters, $10,000; to James Long's two sisters of Philadelphia, $30,000, to be divided among them equally; to Ann Rooke, of New York city, a relative of his mother, $10,000; to the M. E. church of Battle Creek, $10,000; to Mr. Leech, a Methodist preacher of Pennsylvania, $5,000; to the M. E. church of the town of Plummer, $25,000; to the M. E. church in Pithole city, toward remodeling the edifice, $10,000. He directed that his remains be taken to Pittsburgh and interred beside his father's, and that $30,000 be applied in the erection of a monument over the grave of his father and himself. The residue of his estate he directed the executors to apply to whatever religious Methodist object they may think best. He declares his reason for omitting his brother William's name and his sister Mary Jane's name in the will because he had already provided for them. He also declared that if any of the parties named in his will dispute or contest the validity thereof, then it was his will that the legacy or bequest to such party shall lapse and form part of his residuary estate.

Duncan's relatives considered the disposal of his property in this manner as very singular, and proceeded to contest the will upon the ground of insanity.

ANDY AND THE WORM.

Well, one day Andy was digging in his very own garden just after the shower, when he spied a big worm.

Worms are not pleasant things. I don't think that anybody would make a pet of one, and although I've tried very hard I cannot say that I really love them myself; but I'm not afraid of them, and neither, I am glad to say, was Andy.

He didn't run away as fast as he could, tumbling over all sorts of things until he reached the house, nor did he dance up and down, screaming "oh! oh! oh!" when this worm came out of the ground. Not a bit of it.

He sat quietly down on an overturned flower-pot, and looked at the worm in silence for at least two minutes, and the worm raised its neck a little (worms can't raise their heads very high), and looked at him.

At last said Andy, "You're not pretty."

"I am not," answered the worm.

"You can't dance," said Andy.

"I can't," repeated the worm.

"Nor sing," said Andy.

"Nor sing," said the worm.

"You [illegible] know your letters even," said Andy.

"[illegible]," said the worm.

"[illegible]," said Andy.

"[illegible]," said the worm.

"[illegible]," said Andy.

"You [illegible]," said Andy.

"I can," said the worm, so loudly, for a worm, that Andy tumbled off the flower-pot, he was so very much astonished.

[illegible] picked himself up he sat down [illegible] and asked, "What?"

"Something that bees, birds, and even boys [illegible]," answered the worm, wriggling a little [illegible] when they [illegible].

[illegible]

"[illegible]," said Andy.

[illegible]

"[illegible]," said Andy, [illegible].

[illegible]

"[illegible]," asked Andy.

"[illegible]," answered the worm.

"[illegible]?" asked Andy.

"Don't ask so many questions; do as I tell you," replied the worm.

"And why?" said Andy. But seeing that the worm was turning away from him, he seized his little spade and chopped it in two, and lo! and behold! one half crept off one way and [illegible] the other.

[illegible] Mr. Worm [illegible]

[illegible] Mr. Worms [illegible]

"[illegible]," said the tail, and "good-bye," said the tail, and they both crept under the ground and left Andy to ask "And why?" until this very day.—St. Nicholas for November.

From the most reliable [illegible] the [illegible] country [illegible] Arizona and Texas. The [illegible] the stock [illegible] in the country has been [illegible] since the 1st of April last and the indications are that, although there may be one [illegible] until [illegible] the country [illegible] resume [illegible] attained.

The Chicago Journal of Commerce of November [illegible] says fears of danger of still further stringency have been sustained by the course of events. Affairs in the East are complicated and as a natural consequence [illegible] to strengthen the depression existing in the West. The reported failure of Claflin & Co. has been denied and the firm announces its ability [illegible] but have been granted an [illegible] extension. The failure of Sprague & [illegible] to confidence, whilst small [illegible] in New York and other places proved [illegible] hold that the present is more than a mere stock panic, and the sooner the people look the matter squarely in the face the better.

How New York State is paying its debts may be seen from the report of Comptroller Hopkins, who has just returned to Albany from New York city, where he had been to raise money with which to pay the principal and interest of the canal loan due November 1st. The amount of this loan which matured at that time is $1,974,000, and the interest is $9,[illegible]; total $1,984,47[illegible]. He obtained from Comptroller Green on account of taxes due on or before December 1, $400,000; borrowed of the banks in New York $600,000, and the remainder will be drawn in equal quantities from the Albany and country canal banks. It is thought that borrowing will have to be resorted to by other debtors in order to eke out their payments.

Miscellaneous.

The ship Annie M. Small was in port at Shanghai Sept. 27th, and the ship Puritan in port at Hongkong, Oct. 11th. Both were awaiting orders.

The Japan Herald of October 21st has the following: The arrivals of silkworm eggs to date amount to about 850,000, being 700,000 short of the arrivals at same date last year. Settlements have been at about 40,000 and prices remain firm, although the late wet weather has had a bad effect on the eggs.

The steamship Queen [illegible] chartered to load flour in San Francisco for Liverpool, gets £6,000 for the service. It is the first charter of the kind made on the coast.

The Bank of England has raised its rate to 9 per cent., and should the flow of gold to this country continue for even two months longer as it has done for two months past the bank may possibly be permitted to suspend specie payments.

The San Francisco Commercial Herald, speaking of the flour market in that city, says: "No better flour is made than that turned out by the Golden Age, Golden Gate, Starr Mills and other local flouring mills, not excepting Imperial, Salem, Standard and other Oregon extras."

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The market is reported quite active and buyers are inquiring freely for large lots. The large number of vessels present to load renders it necessary for heavy purchases, and it is now claimed that prices here are in advance of the figure justified by Liverpool quotations, and only produced by the over supply of tonnage. Exporters to-day furnish quotations for our market at $2 per cental, though we are reliably informed that 10 cents per cental better has been paid.

FLOUR—Our market is quite firm at $5 50@6 00 ₽ bbl for standard brands, and $4@5 for inferior brands. Our State mills are nearly all now running on full time to supply orders for export, while many of them are employed day and night. The local trade is quite up to the average, and gradually increasing. The aggregate shipped for the season will surpass that of any former year.

OATS—There is some inquiry noticed in our market, and owing to the disposition of holders to stand for higher figures receipts are quite light. The home demand is also active and quotable firm at 40c ₽ bushel.

BARLEY—Without any special activity in our market, we quote fair to choice lots at $1 [illegible] ₽ 100 lbs.

FEED—Prices are apparently weaker and we quote bran at $1[illegible] ₽ ton; chopped feed $23@25; shorts $2[illegible]. The demand is fair.

HAY—Good baled timothy is firm at $12@12 50 ₽ ton; loose $11. The call for home consumption continues active.

POTATOES—In large lots command 35@[illegible] cents according to variety and wants of buyer. The supply is heavy.

APPLES—We notice some lots selling at 25 cents ₽ bushel from wagons, without boxes. Neatly packed in boxes ready for shipping we quote at 40@[illegible] cents, as to variety.

ONIONS—The inquiry is more active and prices have advanced to about 2 cents ₽ lb.

DRIED FRUIT—Large receipts are noticed and prices are seemingly shading off somewhat. Apples in sacks quotable at 6@6½ cents ₽ lb. In kegs 7@7½ cents. Plums with pits, weak at 12@13 cents, pitless 14@16 cents ₽ lb.

BACON—The supply of Oregon cured hams and shoulders continues short of the demand, while smoked meats are more plentiful and find slower sale. We quote good hams at 15 cents, shoulders 9@10, sides 10@11 cents per lb.

LARD—The receipts of fresh Oregon are very light and with a very active demand we quote the market firm at 11@12c ₽ lb in kegs and 12@13c in tins.

CHEESE—We notice large lots of the make of our State dairies in the market, jobbing at 16@17c ₽ lb.

BUTTER—The San Francisco market is reported dull for Oregon made, and reports from shipments made by last week's steamer are discouraging. Consignments are less readily sold at 20@25c ₽ lb, while [illegible] is still firm at 30 cents.

EGGS—The supply is still short, though it is learned that prices are rather weak at [illegible], owing to expected increased receipts and a slight decline in the California market.

CHICKENS—Are very scarce and prices nominally unchanged, though choice lots would probably command advance.

BEEF CATTLE—Receipts are diminishing, and good young steers netting 800 lbs are worth 4c ₽ lb. We quote at [illegible] foot.

DRESSED—Receipts limited and demand increasing, quotable at 7c@8c ₽ lb.

MUTTON SHEEP—The market is fairly supplied at $2@[illegible] ₽ head.

HIDES—Trade is apparently less active, owing probably to reported declines in the Eastern leather markets and the stoppage of factories. Prices, however, are without important change, with less urgency on the part of buyers.

WOOL—For use by our state mills the prices paid range at 20@[illegible] ₽ lb. Shipments amount to but little.

MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, [illegible] where his old patients and those requiring [illegible] services may find him.

[illegible] has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with [illegible] for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from a virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pained and emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrible situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible and destroying maladies, see that they are carefully and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be aware of the many pretended doctors who infest our coast, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This secret vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz.: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactory to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars in a registered letter through the Post-office, or through Wells Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are ex-convicts and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN. jy[illegible]
